AN UNDERGROUND CANAL SIXTEEN Miles Long -"The strangest cana' in the world," says an E glish cler, yman, "is one I never saw mentioned in any book or news paper. It is a cara! sixteen miles long, between Worsley and St. Helene, in the north of England, and is underground from end to end. In Lancashire the coal mines are very extensive, barf the country being undermined, and many years ago the Duke of Bridgewater's managers thought they could save money by transporting the cost under-ground instead of on the surface. So the canal was constructed, the mines connected canal wes constructed, the mines connected and drained at the same time. Ordinary canal boats are used, but the power is far nished by men. On the roof of the tunnel arch are cross pieces, and the men who do the work of propulsion lie on their backs on the coel and push with their feet against the cross bars on the roof. Six or eight men will down a true of four or fice hours and will draw a train of four or five boats, and as there are two divisions in the tunnel, boats pass without difficulty.—St Louis Globe

A NARRO W ESCAPE .- Dr. M. L. Garrison visited a patient near Nineveh on Friday, the 5th inet., and on returning home be found the North branch of the Shenandoah river bad risen some 18 or 20 inches since he had crossed it in going over, and consider-ing it too high for his two-wheeled vehicle to give him a safe, dry passage, he got upon his horse, using his cushion for a saddle. When about half way over, the current being so swift upset his "cart" and his horse was thrown down and he under him, but af ter an heroic struggle of several minutes be disengaged bimeelf from beneath his burden and reached the further shore safely with his entire "outfit" save his tin chest of med-icine and some valuable surgical instruments .- Warren Sentinel.

The schooner Polly is probably, with the exception of the bark Rousseau, the bidest vessel in service flying the American flag, having been built in Amesbury, Mass., in 1804. She served as a privateer in 1812 and captured several prizes. She was taken by the English man of var New Castle and started for Halifax, but the Americans left on board overpowered the prize crew and recaptured her. Subsequently she was employed as a fisherman and latterly as a coaster. She has never been wrecked, but has suffered several collisions.

On the farm owned by Joseph Neff, near Cowan's Rockingham county, is a large weeping willow which measures seventeen feet and a half in circumference. It was planted by Frederick Click over 100 years It is still fresh and green and shows little sign of decay except one large limb broken off about 30 feet above the ground In this broken limb, although it is 30 feet from the ground, a hen has hatched two broods of chickens.

Thirteen indictments were found at the last Northumberland County Court sgainst the masters and owners of steamers engaged in catching alewives in the waters of Virginia. The indictments were found upon information given by vessel owners engaged in the same business, it being unlawful to use steamers in this business but not to use sailing vessels.
